Accomplishments
2000-2001

Wisconsin's Fish & Wildlife Account supports a wide variety of work the department and its partners perform to sustain natural resources and make them accessible and attractive for public use.

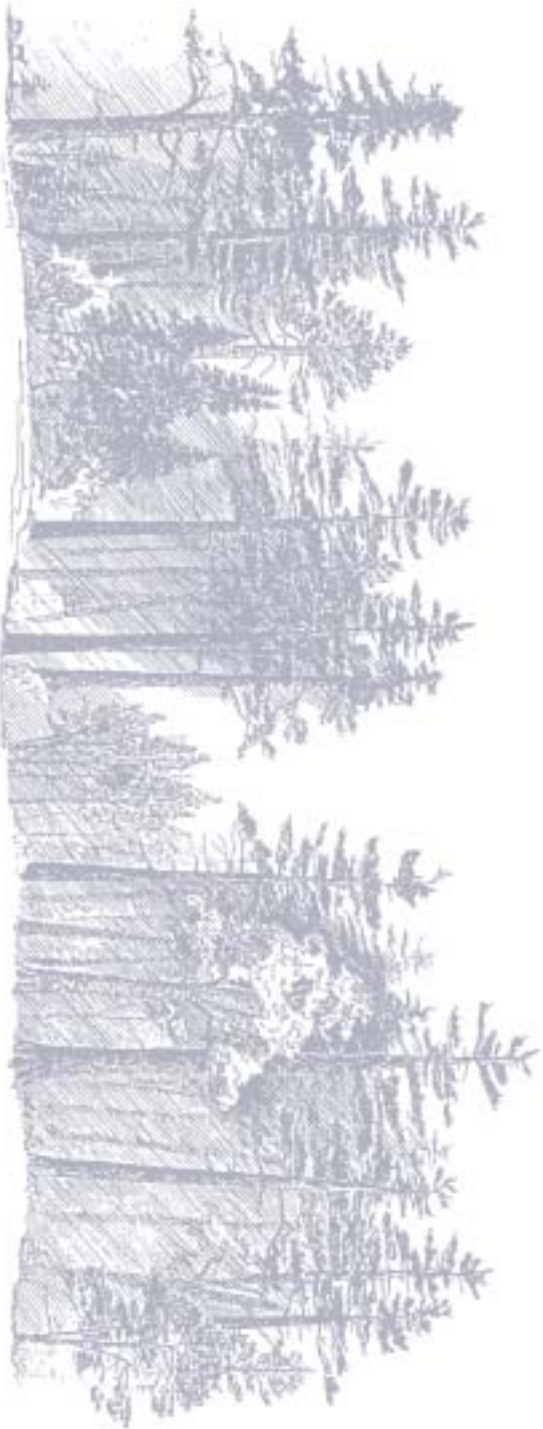

- We improved habitat on 30 miles of trout streams; sampled 413 stream sites and more than 130 lakes, rivers and flowages; and conducted walleye population estimates on 33 lakes and creel surveys on 21 inland lakes and the Great Lakes.
- Helped nearly 1,700 landowners improve their land for wildlife; enhanced and maintained 500,000 acres of public accessible hunting grounds; conducted 1,311 wildlife surveys to assess population health and abundance; and banded 9,000 waterfowl.
- More than 4,600 volunteer instructors trained 32,462 students in hunter education. Conservation wardens provided educational programs for schools, conservation clubs and media; checked thousands of hunters, anglers and trappers for required licenses; investigated poaching violations and accidents; and responded to thousands of citizen complaints and inquiries.
- Purchased more than 8,100 acres of fish and wildlife lands, bringing DNR ownership to over 1.4 million acres; completed feasibility studies to expand seven wildlife areas; and completed construction of 10 boat access projects.
- Offered new service enabling customers to purchase and print hunting and fishing licenses off the Internet; expanded services retail license sales agents can provide.
- Worked with local government and conservation groups on natural resources issues.
